JOE CURCILLO | Podcast Info

Keynote Speaker | Strategic Advisor | Author

Even the smartest experts have blind spots — not from lack of skill, but from the walls between departments. Joe calls this the Integration Gap™: the space where one expert's blind spot is another expert's obvious answer, and where organizations lose the most without ever noticing it.

Ideal Conversation Topics

- Why smart leaders make bad decisions
- Making better decisions when certainty isn't available
- Breaking down organizational silos
- The Generalist's Advantage™
- Leadership in uncertainty
- Leading in the age of AI without losing human judgment

Listeners Will Leave With

- Practical tools they can use immediately
- Frameworks for leading through uncertainty
- Ways to see hidden risks and opportunities
- Strategies for connecting expertise across silos

Why Joe?

Joe Curcillo helps leaders close the Integration Gap™ — the space between departments where expertise gets siloed and costly mistakes hide in plain sight. A trial attorney, civil engineer, strategic advisor, and professional mentalist, Joe brings an unusually broad perspective to leadership and judgment.

He is the author of three books, The Generalist's Advantage™, Hold the Horizon™, and Symphony of Disciplines™. Joe offers podcast hosts a candid, engaging conversation about blind spots, false certainty, and why smart, expert people still miss what's obvious to someone standing just outside their lane.
